Work begins to rebuild the Fat Cat after blaze

A NORTHAMPTON bar hit by the fire at the former Angel Hotel will cost half a million pounds to repair, managers said, as restoration works begin.

The blaze in January, which started above The Fat Cat Cafe bar unit next door, destroyed the roof and severely damaged upper floors of Balloon Bar.

Managers said they can now start to think about gutting and refitting the bar, with a possible reopening date as early as September in mind.

Manager John Shelton said: "We've been waiting and waiting but unable to crack on until Fat Cats was made safe so we could access our site properly."

"They've put a steel frame, almost like a building within a building, in Fat Cats and that means we're OK to start."

"When you look at it from the front the whole hotel facade looks fine."

"But there's about £500,000 of damage in Balloon Bar. It ripped through the building, especially the first and second floors, and then the roof."

Balloon Bar will reopen with an extra bar area, taking the total to three, plus staff accommodation, Mr Shelton said.

Traffic will revert back to the former two-way system in Bridge Street until a consultation with business owners is carried out.

The measures will come back into force when hoarding is removed.

Northamptonshire County Council said it would then consult with businessmen in the street over a planned further road scheme, for which it is trying to find funds.

HUNDREDS of people have already downloaded the Chronicle & Echo's new iPad app and taken out a subscription to the new-look weekly paper, a sister publication of the Mercury.

To celebrate the launch the Chron is offering a fantastic introductory deal to subscribers.

You can save 35 per cent off the cover price and get your copy for just 65p. The normal cover price is £1. And you'll also get the iPad app for free, saving a further £47 per year.

It's simple to subscribe. Just go to www.subscriptionline.co.uk and follow the step-by-step registration process for the Chronicle & Echo or simply call 0844 292 0216 and we will do it all for you.

This offer ends on Saturday, June 23. It reverts to a standard 25 per cent discount at first renewal.

Editor David Summers said: "We asked our readers to tell us what they thought of the new look Chronicle & Echo and we received some great responses.

"Generally, the reaction was very positive, with many people really liking the new designs and the content.

"There was some very useful feedback including comments about things people would like to see in the paper and we will be looking at all of those suggestions and seeing which ones we can introduce in future weeks.

"Please keep your comments coming, it is very much appreciated."

If you would like to give your views in more detail, you can complete an online survey by visiting the following link:

Although the printed edition of the Chronicle & Echo has moved to weekly publication, the website and other digital platforms continue to go from strength to strength.

Mr Summers added: "More than 200,000 unique users visit our website every month and we update this site seven days a week.

"Increasingly more and more people are accessing our site through a smartphone and our new mobile website makes it a lot easier to read your news, features and sport."

All schools will take part in Olympic relay

EVERY school in Northampton will be taking part in an Olympic torch relay which will be started by former 400m runner, Derek Redmond.

The battery-operated torch will be carried by pupils from school to school from June 27 to July 11 and plaques commemorating each school's involvement in the event will be commissioned for display at each site.

Sue Russell, torch relay co-ordinator, said: "It will bring all the schools in the town together and will provide a lasting legacy of the Olympics for the children."

As part of the event, each school will produce two pieces of artwork and one will be taken as a gift to their relay school and handed over with the torch.

Each school will also adopt an Olympic team to support for the relay, as well as Team GB, and will produce appropriate flags.

Sculptures designed by primary pupils will be commissioned to be displayed in secondary schools.

Collections will be made for the Always A Chance charity, set up for youngsters in memory of murder victims James Kouzaris and James Cooper.

The torch relay will be started by former Olympic athlete Derek Redmond at The Racecourse in Northampton on Wednesday, June 27.

All 68 schools in Northampton, including special schools, will take part in the relay event.

The relay will end on Wednesday, July 11 at Abington Vale Primary School.

Sue Russell is organising a schools' torch relay which involves all schools in Northampton

Nadina loses five stone and wins beauty title

A MISS England finalist from Northampton says she has "turned her life around" after losing five stone and four dress sizes.

Nadina Knight, of Abington, is the first winner of Miss Northampton to make it through to the national final of the beauty pageant, which will be held in Birmingham later this month.

The 24-year-old said her success was due to hard work and determination which she had used three years ago to drop from 15 stone to 10.

Miss Knight said: "A huge life achievement for me was working very hard on my fitness and lifestyle at the age of 21 to lose five stone."

"I was previously a size 16-18 and weighed 15 stone but health has always been of utmost importance to me and my family so I put in the hard work and determination needed to turn my life around."

"This massive change taught me just how much determination I have and I apply this to everything I undertake."

Miss Knight secured her place in the Miss England final after she competed against 60 other women in the semi-final in Champney Springs, Leicester, on May 30.

She impressed judges in three rounds of the competition, including interview, evening wear and eco fashion.

Miss Knight said: "It was incredible when they read out my name."

"I'm really excited about the final. I'm hoping that the whole of Northampton will support me."

"I'm hoping to do the town proud in the final."

"However, even if I don't win the experience so far has been amazing. I have already made some lifelong friends and had a massive confidence boost as well as raising money for a good cause. I would recommend it to anyone."

The Miss England grand final starts in Birmingham on June 23 with a two-day boot camp where the 60 finalists

Rescued Allchin ready

LESS than four years after it was rescued from a council depot where it had been left to rust, a restored Northampton steam roller has gone on show to the public.

The 113-year-old Allchin steam roller was rescued from Northampton Borough Council's Westbridge depot in July 2009.

When it was saved, the machine consisted of a mass of rusted parts which had been left to rot under a bush for almost two decades.

But after three years of restoration work, the roller went on display at the Lamport Festival of Country Life.

Kingsthorpe resident, Julian Skinner, who has led the restoration with his wife Sharon, said people had been amazed to see the roller returned to its former glory.

He said: "A lot of people came to have a look at it and they couldn't believe how quickly it's been restored."

"We've had no end of people coming down to look at it."

One of the steam enthusiasts who went to see the roller was 71-year-old retired engineer, Philip Kingston, who is a descendent of the Allchin family.

Mr Kingston, who lives in Rectory Farm, said: "It's incredible what they've done. My dad would have loved to have seen it looking like this again."

"I remember he always used to take me to watch it lead the carnivals, so it's really nice to see it like this again. It's part of my family history and it's part of Northampton's history."

The roller was built at the Allchin works in Southbridge in 1899. It is now the only one of its kind left in the world.

During its working life, it helped build miles of roads across Northampton until it was retired by the council in 1954.*

Important boiler test before roller can get all steamed up

IT was hoped the restored Allchin Northampton steam roller will be able to lead the town's carnival last weekend.

But as its boiler had not yet received its safety certificate, it is not yet back on the road.

In the event the carnival was postponed because of high winds and because rain had left the Delapre Park surface too soft.

Julian Skinner, who has led the restoration, said: "We can't put it in steam the first time and go straight out on the road. We need to run it in a field first to test it."

"So hopefully we'll be there for the carnival in 2013."

It is expected the roller will pass its boiler test in the next few weeks, meaning it will be "in steam" when it is shown at events around the county later this year. For more details visit www.allchinroller.com

Queen's medal for our 'Supergran' hero Ann

"SUPERGRAN" Ann Timson says she has not let fame change her life, after picking up a prestigious award for bravery from The Queen.

The plucky pensioner, from Spring Boroughs, Northampton, was presented with a Queen's Commendation for Bravery on Sunday at All Saints Church.

Mrs Timson shot to worldwide fame after video footage of her sprinting along Gold Street to confront a gang of robbers smashing their way into Michael Jones Jewellers became an internet sensation.

Mrs Timson said she was "very embarrassed" to be recognised with another award for bravery, but admitted the gong was "very special".

Asked if her actions had changed her life, she said: "If I allow it to, yes, but I do my very best not to allow it because I like having my feet on the ground."

She picked up her award following a special Diamond Jubilee service on Sunday.

She added: "Coming here was a wonderful experience, especially for this type of service, because when are we ever going to do this again?"

The location was selected as it was where a filmmaker captured the moment when the pensioner ran 150 metres along Gold Street to take on the gang with her handbag as they smashed their way into the shop.

The award was denoted by a silver emblem of a spray of laurel leaves.

Lady Townsend, the Lord-Lieutenant of Northamptonshire, who presented the award, said: "I really want to make this presentation here, on the portico, because this is the exact angle of the film of those extraordinary events. I think most of us would have crossed the road and walked off as fast as we could, but not Mrs Timson."

SHARED HOME OWNERSHIP DOESN'T MEAN HALF MEASURES

HIGHFIELDS, BRIXWORTH, NN6 9FF

Shared home ownership is the smarter way to get on the property ladder – you choose a property you like, buy a share you can afford and pay a subsidised rent on the rest. You could save substantially on renting a similar property privately and you can increase your share at any time all the way to 100%.

It's open to anyone who is unable to purchase on the open market - so long as your household income is less than £60K per annum and you don't own a home already, you're probably eligible.

But buying your first home in manageable, affordable stages doesn't mean compromise. Take Highfields in Northampton, our stunning countryside development with stylish one bedroom maisonettes available. Kitchens are fitted with gloss cream-coloured base cabinets, contrasted with granite-effect finished worktops.

Appliances include a multi-function Electrolux fan oven, gas hob and stainless steel-finished extractor hood.

Outside, there are private back gardens perfect for summer barbecues and to the front, an allocated parking space for your car.

Highfields at Northampton is built to a specification you'll be proud to call home, yet prices for a one bedroom maisonette start from just £70,000, (so you can purchase a 25% share for just £17,500)!

Genesis is one of the UK's leading providers of shared ownership properties and gets people from all walks of life onto the property ladder. So why wait? Be smart and call us to discuss your eligibility and book your open day appointment.

Trader is told to leave site

A MARKET trader whose stall is based on the same site as a proposed new Waitrose store in Northampton has been given 28 days notice to leave.

Mark Champney, who has run a fruit and vegetable stall in the car park of Northampton Garden Centre, Newport Pagnell Road, Wootton, since 2005, has been told that he cannot trade on the site after the end of the month.

Mr Champney said he believed the move might be linked to the planning application which had been submitted to build a Waitrose store on the garden centre site.

He said: "I've been trading on Saturday and Sunday for the past seven years and I've built up my customer base every year. I employ five people and they will all have to be made redundant if I can't trade here."

Mr Champney said Franchise First, the landlord which has written to him, had offered an alternative site at Harlestone Heath Garden Centre.

He said: "They've offered me somewhere else but I think it would be too far away from where my customers are now. I'm trying to provide local people with a local service."

Waitrose has estimated the proposed new store would bring an estimated 120 jobs to the area.

Following a public consultation in 2011, almost 100 residents of Wootton wrote to Northampton Borough Council to back the new supermarket.

Binnars tells PM: Get out of the EU

THE MP for Northampton South has renewed calls for Britain to leave the European Union, telling Prime Minister David Cameron: "Do what's best for Britain and get us out of the EU".

In his latest blog, rebel Tory politician, Brian Binley, warned that the EU had become a "remote and self-serving bureaucracy" with the major areas of growth lying outside Europe itself, such as India, China and Brazil.

He urged Britain to do more trade with Commonwealth countries: "It's been estimated Commonwealth countries trading with each other experience business costs 10-15 per cent lower than when trading with non-Commonwealth countries. In terms of law, language and business practices we have far more in common with these countries than with Europe."

He added: "This Government now needs to step up and take the big decision to re-negotiate our position. The Prime Minister keeps urging Europe to get its act together but it's us who should be acting. Be brave, Mr Cameron. Do what's best for Britain and get us out of the EU."

'Back to nature' shops plan

THE firm behind a shopping complex, which critics claim could harm Northampton retailers, has unveiled plans for a 200-acre nature reserve.

The controversial Rushden Lakes leisure and retail park development has been heavily criticised by some local authorities who fear it will take vital footfall away from town centres in the county.

The Skew Bridge site, on the edge of Rushden, is made up of more than 250 acres, of which 32 acres will be the new leisure, tourism and retail development.

LXB Properties, which owns the land, has confirmed that 200 acres of lakes and meadows will be opened to the public as a visitor attraction. It would be managed by the Wildlife Trust if it gets planning permission from East Northamptonshire Council for the wider scheme.

The nature conservation site has become a target for illegal off-road vehicles in recent years, but LXB has been in discussions with Natural England since buying the land for about £5m last year, with a view to restoring the nature value of the site and opening it to the public.

Development director at LXB, Jon McCarthy, said: "We are committed to funding £300,000 of paths for the new reserve, and a further £300,000 for a fantastic sustainable visitor centre."

The Wildlife Trust for Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Northamptonshire is also in discussions with LXB about taking space in a new visitors' centre which aims to enhance the visitor experience of the proposed development.

Chairman Sir Charles Chadwyck-Healey said: "If we can successfully fund the costs of the visitors' centre, this will be an important opportunity."

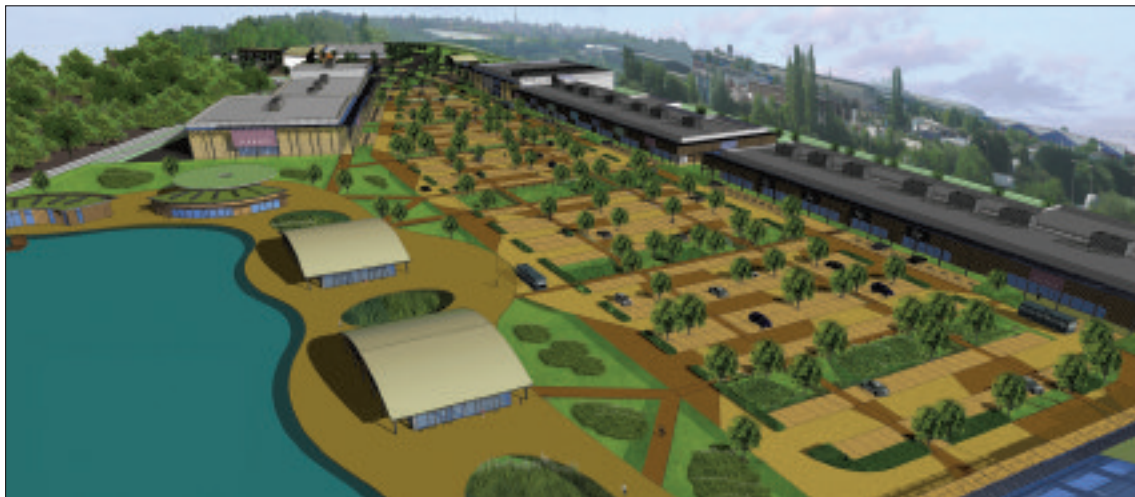

The plans for Rushden Lakes have been criticised by borough councillors in Northampton.

Developers said the plan would create 1,500 jobs, but Councillor Tim Hadland (Con, Old Duston) said: "We have a duty to protect and nurture our town centre."

Objections have also been raised by councillors from Corby and Kettering.

Councillor Hadland said: "After studying the size and location of the proposals and the potential impact on Northampton and other town centres, the committee has raised a number of strong objections."

"The proposals appear to conflict with national planning policy and could jeopardise jobs and investment in Northampton."

Hero Luke saves girl, 6, from weir

A SCHOOLBOY who saved his six-year-old neighbour from drowning after she fell into a weir has been hailed a hero by his family.

Twelve-year-old Luke Pace was out playing with friends near the brook at the back of his estate in Valley Road, Little Billing, Northampton, when he saw Suranne Atkinson slip and plunge into the deep water at the base of the weir.

Seeing she was not able to swim, the quick-thinking youngster jumped in after her, and was fortunately able to get the Bellinge Primary School pupil to safety.

Northampton Academy pupil Luke, who is due to start at Thomas Becket Catholic School on Monday, said: "I was in the woods with my friends Morgan and Billy and my brother Michael, when we saw Suranne and her friend Mia. They were playing, running up and down near the edge.

"Suddenly we heard a big splash, and looked up to see Suranne in the water.

"I couldn't see her head, but she was throwing her arms about trying to bring it up above the water.

"I didn't know if she could swim so I jumped in and pulled her head above water.

Six-year-old Suranne Atkinson with her neighbour, Luke Pace, who saved her life

"I asked if she was OK and got her to safety. Then I asked my friends to start walking her back to her house, while I ran ahead to fetch her mother."

Luke's mother Sallie Shortland described her pride at her son's actions. She said: "He has taken it all in his stride. He just said to me: 'I pulled her out, mum'. I couldn't believe it. I am very proud."

After hearing about his grandson's actions, Luke's grandfather presented him with a trophy and plaque that reads: "Our little hero".

Luke also received a thank-you card from Suranne and £5 from her parents, as well as words of praise from his and Suranne's schools.

Old Fashioned Values Pay Dividends For Cloudy2Clear

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that his approach is the key. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Some people may call the way I do things a little old-fashioned but it's amazing how a simple mix of manners, punctuality and personal service increases your business. I'm constantly taken aback by customers who are shocked that we turn up when we say we will, do the job that is required and clean up after ourselves. I'm afraid it indicates to me that there are many companies who don't and that's just not fair to the customer."

Cloudy2Clear service the whole of Northamptonshire from their local depots and Trevor is finding that his ethos is proving to be a major factor in his success. "When I started out I just did the things that came naturally to me. I really hate being let down by tradesmen so I was determined not to let that happen to my customers. As it turns out that little bit of extra care has meant I get friends and family of people I have done work for on the phone constantly so it's not just personally satisfying but good for business too. At the end of the day it's not rocket science, is it?"

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS DEFEAT

Still celebrating, despite the rain

The rain proved little obstacle to these hardy visitors who attended Delapre Park with flags, picnics and the all-important umbrellas

Tasty treats were cooked by members of the county's WIs, while Ben Frazer, of the Great British Bake Off, gave cooking demonstrations

CROWDS ignored the rain, mud and chilly weather to flock to Northampton's biggest Diamond Jubilee event.

Delapre Park hosted The Big Jubilee Picnic, which celebrated all things vintage, with hundreds of people watching the dancing, catwalk shows and enjoying the live music and demonstrations.

The main stage featured covers and rock and roll bands, as well as "the Ukulele Lady" Sara Spade, before ending with a 140-strong choir and band for a big Jubilee sing-a-long finale.

Elsewhere, fashion trends from decades past were celebrated on a vintage catwalk, while Women's Institute groups had a 'Battle of the Battenberg bake-off' in the tea room.

Event organiser, Tam-syn Payne said the rain had failed to keep people away. She said: "I think despite the appalling conditions everyone has turned out and everyone is having a lovely time. In a way a lovely sunny day wouldn't have been appropriate for a good British celebration."

She added: "Today is an excuse for a nice party and a celebration. We have people from all over the community here and obviously we are here to celebrate the Jubilee."

The event recognised music, food and fashions from the last 60 years – complete with cupcakes – while the Jubilee festivities in London were also shown live on a big screen.

Ben Frazer, from The Great British Bake Off, also held baking demonstrations in a tent, showing people how to make, among other things, a coronation chicken muffin.

He said: "We have done some Battenberg and we are doing some semi-savoury cupcakes."

"It has been a bit wet but I think I may have the best tent because I have the oven in here so it is probably the warmest place."

And while the weather did put off some picnickers, others ignored the rain by huddling under gazebos and umbrellas.

Martin Lynch, aged 61, from Delapre, said: "We are still here picnicking."

"We have come here to celebrate the Jubilee and we have our flags flying."

"There was never any doubt of us coming; we were going to do this whether it was rain or shine and we are having a great time."

Denbigh Teaching School Alliance

The Denbigh Teaching School Alliance is offering an exciting new opportunity for Engineering and Physics graduates in Milton Keynes and the surrounding area. We are working in partnership with Middlesex University to offer training places locally for a new teacher training course.

Mrs Parker, Headteacher of Denbigh Teaching School said "In partnership with Middlesex University, we are amongst the first in the country to offer this exciting new route into the teaching profession. Working closely with our 'outstanding' partners, we can provide the right, high quality environment to attract and nurture the best graduates. With the support of the Institute of Physics, successful applicants could receive a bursary of up to £20,000 to support their training. We were one of the first schools in the country to be designated as a Teaching School and we are now building on our strong track record of innovative practice by seizing the opportunity to train teachers in a new Physics and Mathematics course. We are very excited by the prospect of supplying well-trained, highly motivated teachers to our local schools, and to supporting them throughout their careers in education."

Steve Munby, Chief Executive of the National College said: "... teaching schools will harness the finest teaching talent in the profession to drive school improvement and bring real benefits to pupils. Trainees will learn from the best teachers in action and those who want to step up to more senior leadership positions will be exposed to the excellent practice within and beyond their immediate school".

Engineering and Physics Graduates

Are you interested in training to become a teacher of Physics and Mathematics?

The Denbigh Teaching School Alliance, in partnership with Middlesex University can offer you the opportunity to achieve Qualified Teacher Status (QTS). We are looking for good honours degree candidates, who can start training in September 2012, who will be aiming to gain Qualified Teacher Status on a one year Post Graduate Certificate in Education (PGCE) programme.

You will:

- Train in Milton Keynes Schools, receiving a bursary of up to £20,000 from the Institute of Physics.
- Be part of a training programme, supported by experienced school mentors and visiting tutors from Middlesex University which will equip you to become a successful teacher.
- Follow a full time work based training programme designed to achieve Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) within a 12 month period.
- The opportunity to achieve 60 M level credits towards an MA in Education at a later date.

You will also:

- Have a degree in a relevant subject such as Engineering, Physics or Mathematics.
- Demonstrate an aptitude and enthusiasm for a career in teaching.
- Have at least a grade C in English and Mathematics at GCSE level of an equivalent qualification (original certificates of your qualifications will be required)

Further details and an application form are available from:
Val Hawthorne at Denbigh School 01908 330527.

We are planning to host an Information Evening on:
Wednesday 27th June 2012 from 6:30pm to 7:30pm
for all those interested.

This will be at Denbigh School (please book your place in advance)

Closing date: 9:00am, Wednesday 4th July 2012.

The training period begins in September 2012 and we are planning to shortlist after the closing date of 4th July 2012. Shortlisted candidates will be required to attend an interview on Wednesday 11th July 2012 from 8:30am to 1:00pm.

Successful candidates will be based at one of the Denbigh Teaching Alliance Schools in Milton Keynes. Additional training and assessment will be conducted by Middlesex University, although the majority of the development work will take place within the Alliance Schools. Candidates must be willing to undergo an Enhanced CRB Check.

High-kicker Laxshan earns his black belt at the age of seven

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD has shown age is no barrier in sport, becoming the youngest to gain his Tae-kwon do black belt in the 30-year history of a Northampton club.

Master trainer Cargin Moss, who runs his own Black Belt Academy in Kingsthorpe, admitted the youngster's feat had opened his eyes to lowering their age policy.

Laxshan Rajaratnam, from Abington, was determined to follow in his older brothers' footsteps by learning the martial art when he was four-years-old.

Despite the fact Mr Moss usually only takes students from the age of five, he took a chance on accepting Laxshan when he was one year younger.

Mr Moss said: "We take children from five-years-old because they need to be able to concentrate and be dedicated.

"Laxshan had always loved watching his brothers' from the sidelines, and so we decided to give him a trial." Mr Moss said the youngster had progressed extremely quickly and had managed to secure a black belt within three years of first being taught.

Mr Moss said: "He took to it like a duck to water and we never looked back - he's a fantastic student.

"The average time it takes for a student to progress to a junior black belt is three to five years if they are doing it right.

"Laxshan was a dedicated young man and was training three to four times a week.

"If he had not reached the standard required I would not have let him do the black belt exams but he had a good level in all aspects

"He has proved how capable young children can be and we have since decided to look at the age we start teaching children from."

Seven-year-old Laxshan Rajaratnam has earned a black belt in Tae-kwon do

Drama at print room

The Royal & Derngate continues its 'Festival Of Chaos' with the staging of two classic plays. Both plays, Euripides' Greek tragedy, The Bacchae, and Blood Wedding have been re-invented into new contemporary versions which premiered in Northampton. The Bacchae is being staged in the disused print works of the Chronicle & Echo's town centre office, and Blood Wedding is on the Royal stage. The Bacchae takes audiences into the underbelly of a modern city built on money and greed, where a riotous underground world is emerging. In the new version of Federico Garcia Lorca's Blood Wedding, the spotlight is thrown on a close-knit community in rural Spain, where a long-term feud between two warring households simmers under the burning sun. The productions are performed in rotation by the same company of actors, and are directed by the Royal & Derngate's artistic director Laurie Sansom. To check out the performance schedule for The Bacchae and Blood Wedding or to book tickets, call Royal & Derngate Box Office on 01604 624811 or visit www.royalandderngate.co.uk

Some Bad Manners in town

TWO-TONE ska legends Bad Manners return to the region this week for a headline show at the Attic in Rushden.

Fronted by the legendary Buster Bloodvessel, Bad Manners became favourites of the UK pop scene through their frontman's on-stage antics, earning early exposure through their Top of The Pops exploits and an appearance in the documentary Dance Craze.

They formed in 1976 and were at their most popular during the early 1980s when the likes of Madness, The Specials and The Selecter, dominated the charts.

Bad Manners spent 111 weeks in the UK Singles Chart between 1980 and 1983, achieving chart success with their first four studio albums.

Some of their bigger hits include My Girl Lollipop, Lip Up Fatty, Lorraine and Special Brew.

After splitting in 1987, they have reformed and continue to tour today.

Bad Manners play on Sunday, 17 June.

Doors open at 7pm and the night runs until 11.30pm.

Tickets cost £18 in advance or £20 on the door.

The Attic is at the Athletic Club in Newton Road, Rushden.

Theatre and dance show is especially for the kids

A NEW international theatre and dance extravaganza for kids debuted in Northampton last week.

Jump In, with performances by Catherine Wheels theatre company, was at the Royal & Derngate in Northampton and the moved to The Core at Corby Cube where it starts today. They will perform White, a playful and highly visual new show for very young children.

White is a strange world full of birdsong and birdhouses, where two friends look after the birds and make sure the eggs stay safe.

Audiences will watch and help with this. Tickets cost £5.50. Box office: 01536 470470.

Tom on shortlist

A 21-year-old from Brigstock has been shortlisted in an international documentary film competition.

Tom Millen (right), who studied at Bishop Stopford School, Kettering, was part of a group of film students at University College Falmouth whose film Fabulous has been shortlisted for the Sheffield Student Doc Award. Tom was the sound recordist for the 10-minute short that is now competing against submissions from postgraduate and specialist courses from around the world.

The film is about Michael J. Howell who filled his Plymouth flat to the ceiling with the artefacts of his life. When he's not caring for his cat or his wife, who has MS, he returns to his art, determined to keep depression at bay.

Peugeot pulls out all the stops with best-in-class supermini

There's no greater pressure than being a success. Just ask Peugeot, which faces the task of creating a car that lives up to the legacy of the 205.

That car is still fondly remembered (despite not being as perfect as the fog of nostalgia leads us to believe), but the 206 that followed it did even better: an incredible 7.7 million were sold worldwide.

The outgoing 207 was a good car, but couldn't match either the charm or sales success of its predecessors.

So have a little sympathy for the just-launched 208.

But not much. The first glance will tell you that the 208 is a car with a purpose and a confidence about its looks.

Like any modern car you need the right colour and a decent set of alloys on it to get the best effect, but it is a very handsome thing.

There are token nods to the 205 in the chrome detail around the rear window but it's no slavish recreation, instead the 208 is thoroughly modern.

It's a little bit bigger too - a modest 7cm in length which translates to a useful increase in rear seat room, but more crucial is the fact that it is as much as 110kg lighter than the 207.

That's good news all round, not least because you get more from whatever's under the bonnet but efficiency goes up to; an average saving of 34g/km compared to the old models is claimed.

As well as some carried-over engines, there are some new offerings too, most interestingly a three-cylinder petrol.

Having one fewer cylinder is partially responsible for a 25kg weight saving, but friction is also reduced by almost a third. And when the stop/start system is added to it later in the year it will deliver an impressive 95g/km.

Peugeot says it has given the 208 a 'head-up display' cockpit for better ergonomics, but it would be more accurate to say it has positioned the instruments much higher up on the dash than providing a true digital display in the windscreen.

The idea is that you view the dials over the top of the (much-smaller) steering wheel rather than through it.

This 1.6-litre VTi engine is unchanged from the 207 but here it feels more lively, revs pretty keenly and while not delivering hot-hatch pace, is certainly quick enough for most people.

On the left-hand drive test cars fifth gear seemed a long way over, but in the UK that will work just fine and the shift itself is accurate and consistent.

But what of the legendary 205 and its engaging manner on a twisty road?

Well, the first thing to remember is that you'll never recreate that feeling in a car that weighs a third as much, has wider tyres and power steering (that's what safety kit does for you).

But when you start to push on the 208 is really up for playing too with good feel and feedback through the wheel.

So has Peugeot pulled it off then? Outshone the 205? No. But has it created arguably the best supermini in the class? Quite possibly.

There are some new engines still to try and UK roads provide the toughest test of all, but Peugeot has really pulled out the stops and the result is a cracking little car.

The opposition should start to worry.

The new Peugeot 208 is longer and lighter than the 207 it replaces *Potential saving over a typical High Street agents fee.

ASHBY LOWERY are turning the estate agency market on its head and providing a new

Set Fee Sale Solution

Why should an estate agent take a % of the value of your home? We will agree a set fee for the sale of your property dependant on a few simple criteria. For instance, how easy we believe it will be to sell your property, the amount of advertising and promotion necessary together with the time involved in progressing the sale through to completion. You will receive a quality service, a detailed plan for selling your home, which helps us ensure that you achieve the best price in a time frame to suit your circumstances.

We have a dedicated and experienced team who do there utmost to ensure the experience is as efficient and stress free as possible.

KWIK TAN

The country's leading independent leisure operator has immediate vacancies at their Northampton town centre site for:

Kwik Tan Manager/ess

Salary up to 18k (39 hours per week)

The chosen candidate will be responsible for the day-to-day operation of our busy tanning salon. You will need previous supervisory or management experience for this role, although not necessarily in this industry as full training will be given

Kwik Tan Supervisors

£7.00 ph (16 hours per week)

All applicants should have strong customer service and basic PC skills. Experience within the beauty/retail industry would be advantageous, however more importantly you should be friendly, outgoing and interested in working within this type of environment.

If you feel you have the drive and ambition to succeed in one of the above roles please apply in writing, enclosing an up-to-date CV and contact telephone number to: Yvonne Slater, Kwik Tan, 7 Abington Street, Northampton NN1 2AN or by email to yvonnslater@arcadessdivision.co.uk

Event Staff Required

We are looking for event staff to work on outdoor automotive events this summer. The work will involve collecting event kit from the logistics warehouse and driving it (in event vehicles) to specified locations. The role includes set-up of the event kit and data capture whilst there. The day ends with dismantle and return to the logistics store. This role would ideally suit someone looking for summer work or someone that is looking for extra work to fit around a part-time job.

Essential skills:

- Outgoing & positive outlook
- Happy to handle heavy event kit at times
- Clean driving licence
- Own transport to access the logistics stores (not on public transport route)
- Automotive interest/knowledge
- Desirable:
- Data capture experience.

Please contact Kevin Robinson on 07912717195 if you have any questions or alternatively email your CV, with two references, to tricia@bensons.me.uk

Toni Silva did a great job last season but he won't be wearing a Northampton Town shirt for 2012-13

Silva is out of the frame for Cobblers

AIDY BOOTHROYD has revealed he still wants to bring a right-winger to Sixfields but has confirmed the club will not attempt to re-sign Liverpool wide man Toni Silva.

Cobblers boss Boothroyd praised the Portuguese forward, who scored a vital goal in a precious 1-0 win at Dagenham & Redbridge in March, for the role he played in helping keep Town in the Football League last season.

The club are resigned to losing Michael Jacobs this summer, with the 20-year-old showing no intention of signing the contract he has been offered to extend his time at Northampton and a number of clubs pursuing the midfielder.

Alex Nicholls has been brought in from Walsall to play primarily as a striker, although he can operate on either wing, as can Jake Robinson, who has another year left on his deal at Sixfields.

Boothroyd, however, still wants to make another addition to increase his options in the final third.

"I don't think we'll go back for Toni Silva," he said. "I'm really grateful to him for and for his contribution in getting us out of trouble last season but I don't think that's going to be an option we follow up on."

And he added: "He (Alex Nicholls) has played a lot of his games up front or on the left-hand side. He can play on the right and I want us to have a more fluid and flexible front line."

"It will help if we have a number of players who can play in a number of different positions."

Boothroyd's ultimate aim is to have his entire squad under wraps for the start of pre-season on July 2, but accepts such a target is an ambitious one.

"We don't know where we are with Michael Jacobs, we've not got a recognised outside-right and so there's definitely still some work to do," he said.

"Depending on what happens with our other players, it's a difficult one to balance but I'm ready with a few players and I'm waiting on a few players to come back to me."

"I want to whittle that down so that when the squad comes back we've got a core of players and some that are in the system as well."

"That's not always the case, it will depend on what is available."

Big scalp on the cards for England

BEN FODEN has warned England they can't afford to be 'too lethargic' when they take on South Africa in the second Test this Saturday.

The Saints star scored a late try in the first meeting between the two sides last weekend, but it wasn't enough as the Red Rose lost 22-17 in Durban.

They now move on to Johannesburg knowing another defeat would see them lose the series and stand on the brink of a white-wash.

Foden knows exactly where his side need to improve if they are to get a win on the board this weekend, but he believes they should be full of confidence ahead of the second showdown.

"We knew we'd have to be more physical at the breakdown [in the second half] and slow them down but at the same time play to our strengths," said the 26-year-old.

"I think we sat back and saw what they could throw at us and they scored two tries from us sitting back and being too lethargic."

"We've got a lot to work on but we'll also take a lot of confidence because we've got areas to improve and know we can break them down."

England were severely lacking in international experience in comparison to South Africa - with 187 caps in the visiting starting 15 against 458 in the home side.

But the five-point defeat was the closest they have run the Springboks in the last eight meetings between the sides and Foden believes a big scalp is on the cards on Saturday.

"It's new experience for a lot of guys in this squad, coming to the southern hemisphere and playing this intensity of rugby, especially away from home is a big ask," he said.

"But we're England at the end of the day, we're going places and aiming for big things, so the next big step for us is to take a scalp out here."

"Hopefully we can do that in the next game and it will really heat up for the final Test."

Meanwhile, Saints have been drawn in pool four for next season's Heineken Cup and they will take on Ulster, Glasgow Warriors and Olympique Castres.
